

ISO 14001:2004 Environmental Management Systems

Course Overview

ISO 14001 is becoming more prevalent in today's world. The number of certifications is growing at 30% per year. More and more companies are requiring their suppliers to become ISO 14001 compliant. The new version of ISO 14001:2004 on Environmental Management Systems will be reviewed in detail. The methods to comply with the new standard will be discussed. ISO 14001 will be compared and contrasted to ISO 9000:2000 for those companies who already have an ISO 9001 compliant system.

Course Objectives

After attending this training, you will understand:

- What ISO 14001 and an Environmental Management System is
- Each of the element requirements and how to comply with them
- How to build on an ISO 9001 compliant system to develop your Environmental Management System
- The steps towards certification